Telos Corporation Awarded Xacta Contract by U.S. Department of State

November 3, 2026

New award includes Xacta 360 subscriptions and cybersecurity services.

ASHBURN, Va., Nov. 03, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Telos Corporation (NASDAQ: TLS), a leading provider of cyber, cloud and enterprise security solutions for the world's most security-conscious organizations, today announced a new contract award from the U.S. Department of State for Xacta 360™ subscriptions and cybersecurity services.

Under the 12-month award, Telos will provide a customer-hosted, customer-managed Xacta 360 subscription, along with technical expertise and cyber compliance assessment services. Xacta 360 will support the department's security authorization, control assessment, compliance documentation and continuous monitoring activities.

"Federal agencies need a clear, current view of their security and compliance posture," said Mark Griffin, chief executive officer of Telos. "We're pleased the Department of State selected Xacta and our cybersecurity services to support that work. We look forward to helping its teams manage the authorization process and make informed decisions about cyber risk."

Xacta® is Telos' cyber GRC platform, designed to help organizations manage cybersecurity risk and compliance across complex enterprise environments. Its integrated capabilities support security authorization, continuous monitoring and AI-assisted risk analysis, enabling organizations to improve visibility, make informed decisions and maintain ongoing awareness of their security and compliance posture.
